

TAG playlist includes costume drama, comedy

---

<http://thechronicleherald.ca/artslife/104958-tag-playlist-includes-costume-drama-comedy>

June 9, 2012

The Theatre Arts Guild has announced its 2012-2013 season at the Pond Playhouse. It is:

Sep. 20 to Oct. 6 (pending rights approval): God of Carnage. This drama by French playwright Yasmina Reza weaves a story about two couples trying to resolve a problem in a civilized fashion. Add a little booze and soon tensions are running high. Directed by Michele Moore.

Nov. 29 to Dec. 15: Camelot, the Panto. This comic adventure, written by U.K. playwright Ben Crocker, takes you to a faraway place with knights, damsels and a bear. Directed by Angela Butler.

Feb. 14 to March 2: The Death of Me/My Narrator. Two one-act plays by Canada's Norm Foster mixing "true to life" with the "unbelievable." Directed by Frank MacLean.

April 18 to May 4: A Man for All Seasons. Written by Robert Bolt, this classic is a rich costume drama, set in the time of King Henry VIII. Directed by Gisela O'Brien.

June 20 to July 6: The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee. This musical, fresh from Broadway, has played all over the world. Joining the cast of nine, are willing audience volunteers. Music and lyrics by William Finn, book by Rachel Sheinkin, conceived by Rebecca Feldman and directed by Jolene Pattison.

The Theatre Arts Guild is the oldest, continually operating community theatre company in Canada. Home base is the Pond Playhouse, located at 6 Parkhill Rd., Halifax.

Visit www.tagtheatre.com for information.